

Dear Poppy,

Thank you for signing up to the Big Green Jewish Website. This has been a busy month for us with the launch of the website and preparations for action around the Copenhagen Climate Conference. You'll find information in this newsletter on what you can do between now and the conference to ensure global leaders deliver the best possible deal for the world at Copenhagen.

Please forward this email onto your friends and family.

The Big Green Jewish Website Team

Ed Miliband launches the website

Minister for Energy and Climate Change, Ed Miliband, launched The Big Green Jewish Website at a packed screening of The Age of Stupid at the Tricycle Cinema, where he invited the audience to join him on December 5th at 'a very important popular mobilisation', the details of which can be found here.

Click here for photos and press coverage of the event.

For those that attended the event please fill in our on-line survey and tell us what you thought:

<http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/XXQ8C99>

Chief Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks speaks about climate change

The Chief Rabbi delivers a message on the eve of the Copenhagen Climate talks on Jewish obligation to care for the environment.

Countdown to Copenhagen: What you can do

With less than a week to go until the COP 15 Climate Change talks in Copenhagen the Big Green Jewish Website recommends the following ways to make sure your voice is heard by world leaders at Copenhagen:

- 1) Attend The Wave: The Wave is set to be the biggest climate change mobilisation in British History, taking place two days before COP 15 begins. Click here for more information on synagogue services taking place before the event.
- 2) Sign the Friends of the Earth Copenhagen Petition: Set to be the largest climate change petition delivered at the Summit, make sure your signature is on the petition.

See the campaigns section of the website for more information about other campaigns.

Follow us!

The Big Green Jewish Website is now on Twitter and Facebook and we'd like you to follow us! Click on the logos to find us.

